---> Comment Text :
Everything I have studied indicates there is an adequate level of safety for use of the YMP for expended fuel storage. Transportation is not a problem. A very vocal minority objects.

The many citizens of this country who ask me about nuclear power recognize the environmental advantages to using it to generate electricity--"if only the waste storage problem could be solved!" They are surprised when informed that the problem is political not technical. If Yucca Mountain were approved it would boost tremendously the support for nuclear electricity generation.
